Equity & Diversity Conference Sponsorship Invitation

The Equity and Diversity Conference would not be possible without the unique support of our vendors and sponsors. We would like to extend to you a special invitation to partner with us for the 2018 Conference. By contributing as a sponsor, your organization will interface with up to 500 attendees including UNT students, higher education professionals, corporate partners, and community leaders!

Continuing our new tradition, the division will present an award to a UNT department or college that has demonstrated a clear commitment to diversity, equity, inclusion and access and recognize them at the conference luncheon. Award naming rights and registration for six people are included in the Inclusive Excellence Sponsorship opportunity along with a vendor table and the honor of your company representative presenting this award on the day of the conference. A portion of the $5,000 donation will go to the winning recipient to further their efforts to create an inclusive, equitable and welcoming environment for our faculty, staff, and students. This year, we also have the inaugural Social Justice Sponsorship, which invites speakers on additional special topics.

A description of our wide range of sponsorship packages follows, from which you can select the level of participation that best meets your needs.

Please send your sponsorship commitment form and logos (as either .ai or .eps format) by January 1, 2018 in order to secure your space. If you have any questions regarding your potential participation, please contact Shani Barrax Moore at (940) 565-3578 or Teresita Hurtado Ramos at (940) 565-3724.

For additional information, visit our website at edo.unt.edu/equity-and-diversity-conference.

Thank you for your consideration,

Shani Barrax Moore,
Director of Diversity and Inclusion
